

Mother's Day

Karmen.G

What do Mother's do to Deserve a Day to Themselves?

- Mothers put themselves second for their kids, so they are well deserving for a day of appreciation. Some things most mothers do for their kids include:
- Making meals
- Helping their child(s) with homework
- Doing the things for their child(s) that the child(s) is unaware of
- Teaching their child(ren) basic life skills (i.e.: hygiene)
- Entertaining them
- And many more

Possible Gift Options

- The classic Mother's Day gifts could include:

Flowers, specifically dark pink (for appreciation), red (for respect and love), and peach roses (for sincerity)

Chocolates

But the MOST common gift from ALL ages being:

Cards/Letters

Why Would Mothers Want Their Present To Be A Card Instead of an Expensive Gift?

- A card shows sentimental values and shows more love than a bouquet of flowers their child got from one quick trip to the flower shop. It shows love, that no rose colour could demonstrate.

Why Was Mother's Day Created, and Why In The Month Of May Every year?

- Mother's Day was created by Anna Jarvis because in May of 1905, her mother who she was extremely close to died, so in honor of her, and all the other mothers around the globe, she created a day dedicated for them
- The day was dedicated for mothers to show appreciation for all the sacrifices they make for their children on a daily basis.

Thanks For Watching!

- Hopefully, if you didn't before, you can see the importance of Mother's Day, and give your mother, or a mothering figure in your life, a thank you on the coming May 9th!
